corefy

White label payment provider

An unbranded ready-made payment provider solution that allows you to customise it with your brand and offer comprehensive payment processing services to other merchants.

How does it work?

Enter the payment market as a service vendor under a white label business model. It means you get an unbranded payment provider software, customise it with your brand identity and start offering payment processing to merchants and generating your interest.

Contact us →

Benefits

By opting for the White label payment provider, you get to the market quicker and more efficiently. It enables you to concentrate on business performance and development strategies without diverting your attention to the technical aspects.

✓ High-end ready-made software

We've taken care of all development hassles, including the essential part – developing a payment page with a clear and user-friendly design.

✓ Non-stop maintenance

We continuously maintain and upgrade the software we provide to offer your clients uninterrupted service.

✓ Security & compliance

Our solution complies with the strictest security standards, including the PCI DSS Level 1, and we undergo independent audits annually. We've taken care of the necessary tokenisation and security modules to guarantee ultimate security for each transaction and encrypted cardholders' data.

✓ Rich payment network

Integration of payment processors, acquirers, and other payment service providers is on us. You get a solution that supports an exhaustive list of payment & payout methods, currencies, and valuable tools for your customers.

Features

One integration with our platform will bring you an extensive set of smart tools for providing high-quality service. Our White label payment provider package includes tools for:

- ✔ Accepting payments & making payouts, including instant, batch, recurring, and subscription payments, using a high-end Checkout page.

- ✔ Smart processing via Routing & Cascading to increase the efficiency of each transaction.

- ✔ Control and management of your merchants, payment flows, and all transactional data via a user-friendly Dashboard.

Why choose White label payment provider?

The main reason to opt for a white label business model in the payment industry is that it empowers you to start a business and earn money quickly. Corefy's White label payment provider saves you up to several years of preparation, hiring a team of experts, purchasing the necessary equipment, and developing. It also relieves the burden of continuous maintenance and upgrading your services.

How to get started?
See how it works and ask any questions you might have on an online demo.

Schedule a demo →

Client cases

letyshops   Kuna   BOOSTA

Learn more

Related products

→ White label payment provider

→ Merchant management

→ Checkout

→ Dashboard

Articles

→ Getting started with white label PSP: 5 steps guide

→ 3 things to look for when choosing white label PSP

→ How we onboard our clients: all steps explained

→ How to become a PSP without development efforts

→ White label PSP & everything beginners should know about it